Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Location, Grading and Drainage of Highways: A Concise Discussion of General Principles Illustrated by Current and Recommended Practice This book is the first of a series of four volumes presenting the road problem from the standpoint of the constructing engineer. It is intended for the use of students and practicing engineers. Each book will be complete in itself and will deal with a well defined portion of the general problem. The first book covers a discussion of general principles governing the policy of highway programs such as: the scope of the program, general character of the system, classification, layout, appropriation estimates, fundamental principles of design and reasonable economy in design. It develops the detail theory of economic location and grade line design from the standpoints of both horse and motor traffic. It discusses Cross Sections, Roadway Widths, Right of Way and Drainage. The intention is for this volume to cover concisely but fully the principles of design of the relatively permanent features of highway construction. Theory is developed but used largely as a basis for...
