After the outlines had been tested by several teachers with their classes, the report of the committee was presented to the Association in April, 1901. The general and special introductions with ample illustrations of the outlines were then printed and sent to all members as a preliminary report. After this had been tried in the schools and discussed by the Association at its meeting in October, 1901, the report was approved and ordered published. The original committee which prepared the preliminary report was composed of six members: Herbert D. Foster, of Dartmouth...

Reviews

This book is definitely not effortless to start on reading through but extremely fun to learn. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
